With Inside Connector

Please note that when an inside connector is used, parts of the back banner(s) won't be visible because the width of the front frame(s) will be in front.

Where the overlap happens, 120 mm won't be visible from the back banner. Even though that part of the banner won't be visible, our advice is to continue the design even on that part, especially when there is a desired continuation between the banners.
